Respected Amma,

Today we signed the papers and Flat 6 in Shanti Niwas is now our own. We have lived here as tenants since 1972 and now no landlord can ask us to leave. Forty-eight thousand rupees, Amma, all our savings and a loan from the railway cooperative.

Kamla cried at the registrar's office and then laughed at herself. Arun wants a bookshelf for his engineering books and Meera wants a window seat.

Please come and stay with us this winter. Your room is ready.

Your son,
Mohan
